

EDUCATION:

- University of Washington Political Science Department, PhD
Dissertation: "Human Rights and International Law from the Ground Up: Mining, Indigenous Communities and the Community Consultation Movement in Latin America"
MA essay of distinction (2008): "Consultation and Counterhegemony: The Law and Politics of Indigenous Rights in Latin America"
- Princeton University, B.A. in Politics, 2001
Certificates in Latin American Studies, Spanish Language and Culture, and Political Theory
- La Universidad Católica in Santiago, Chile, semester abroad, 2000

PUBLICATIONS:

- Academic:
- Fulmer, Amanda M., Angelina Godoy, and Phil Neff. "Indigenous Rights, Resistance, and the Law: Lessons from the Marlin Mine in Guatemala," Latin American Politics and Society, Winter 2008.
 - Fulmer, Amanda. "La consulta a los pueblos indígenas y su evolución como herramienta de negociación política en América Latina. Los casos de Perú y Guatemala," Revista Apuntes, University of the Pacific, Lima, Peru, 2011.
 - Fulmer, Amanda M. "The Politics of a Strange Right: Consultation, Mining and Indigenous Mobilization in Latin America," in Uses and Misuses of Human Rights. George Andreopoulos and Zehra F. Kabasakal Arat, eds. Palmgrave Macmillan 2014.
- Policy:
- "Human Capital Reform: 21st Century Requirements for the United States Agency for International Development" in Human Capital 2004, Breul and Gardner, eds.
 - Editor, "Equity and Growth: The Role of Civil Society in Sustainable Development" (NPA 2003)

AWARDS AND FELLOWSHIPS:

- Inter-American Foundation doctoral dissertation research grant, awarded in 2009
- Chester-Fritz doctoral dissertation research grant, awarded in 2009
- Paul R. Speyer Endowed Fellowship for graduate studies in Political Science at the University of Washington (2005-6)

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE:Center for Talented Youth, Monterrey, Mexico

Instructor for Latin American Political Theory, Summer 2008

- Designed and taught new intensive course for advanced high school students; supervised T.A.

Oxfam America, Lima, Peru

Princeton in Latin America Fellow, September 2004 to June 2005

- Researched effects of extractive industry on indigenous communities
- Assisted with design for communications strategy for Oxfam's Andean campaigns
- Provided translations and content for campaign websites

World Resources Institute, Washington, DC

Program Coordinator, July 2003 to June 2004

- Served as internal reviewer for WRI's proposed extractive industries work
- Provided research and editorial assistance on report on "mainstreaming" environmental concerns at the Inter-American Development Bank

National Policy Association, Washington, DC

Research Fellow, August 2001 to January 2003

- Served as Project Director for study of USAID personnel policies

- Authored major research paper and directed conference on USAID policies
- Directed international conference on “Equity and Growth” in Lima, Peru, February 2002
- Edited numerous NPA publications in Spanish and in English

Association of Family Members of the Detained and Disappeared, Santiago, Chile

Intern, Summer 2000

- Assisted with human rights historical archives project on forced “disappearances” under Pinochet
- Translated documents between Spanish and English

Office of Senator Russ Feingold, Middleton, WI

Intern, Summer 1999

- Responded to constituent inquiries
- Provided research assistance and general office support

CONFERENCE PRESENTATIONS:

- May 2007. University of British Columbia Faculty of Law Interdisciplinary Legal Studies Graduate Students' Conference. “Rights, Resistance and the Law: Lessons from a Guatemalan Mine.”
- March 2009. Western Political Science Association conference. “Rejecting Rights: The U'wa People of Colombia and Indigenous Consultation”
- May 2009. Law and Society Association Conference. “The Politics of Consultation: The Role of Rights in Indigenous Community Struggles in Latin America”
- October 2010. Latin American Studies Association Conference. “Consultation and its Discontents: Mining, Indigenous Communities and Rights in Perú and Guatemala”
- February 2011. West Coast Law and Society Retreat. “The Politics of a Strange Right: Consultation, Mining and Indigenous Mobilization in Latin America”
- March 2011. International Studies Association conference. “International Law as a Weapon of the Weak? ILO 169 and the Right to Consultation in Latin America”
- April 2011. Western Political Science Association conference. “The Politics of a Strange Right: Consultation and its Discontents in Latin America”
- June 2011. Law and Society Association conference. “The Politics of a Strange Right: Consultation and its Discontents in Latin America”
- September 2011. American Political Science Association conference. “The Politics of a Strange Right: Consultation, mining and mobilization in Latin America”
- March 2012. Western Political Science Association conference. “The Politics of a Strange Right: Mining and the Community Consultation Movement in Latin America”
- May 2012. Latin American Studies Association conference. “The Politics of a Strange Right: Consultation and Mobilization around Extractive Industries in Latin America”
- June 2012. Law and Society Association conference. “The Politics of a Strange Right: Consultation and Mining in Latin America”
- May 2013. Latin American Studies Association conference. “Peru’s new Indigenous Consultation Law: An Appraisal”

UNIVERSITY TEACHING AND RESEARCH EXPERIENCE:

2022-present: University of Massachusetts-Amherst, University Without Walls; 2021-present, SUNY Albany; 2006-2016, University of Washington, Seattle

- Fall 2024: Instructor for “Introduction to Human Rights,” synchronous online, and “Health as a Human Right,” asynchronous online
- Summer 2024: Instructor for “Human Rights and Wrongs,” asynchronous online
- Spring 2023: Instructor for “Human Rights and Wrongs,” asynchronous online, and “Basics of International Law,” synchronous online
- Fall 2023: Instructor for “Health as a Human Right,” asynchronous online
- Summer 2023: Instructor for “Human Rights and Wrongs,” asynchronous online
- Spring 2023: Instructor for “Health as a Human Right,” asynchronous online

- Fall 2022: Instructor for “Basics of International Law,” synchronous online
- Spring 2022: Instructor for “Basics of International Law,” synchronous online; Instructor for “Human Rights and Wrongs,” asynchronous online
- Spring 2021: Instructor for “Introduction to Public Law,” synchronous online
- Winter 2016: Instructor for “Latin American Politics”
- Spring 2013: Teaching Assistant for “Human Rights in Latin America”
- Winter 2013: Instructor for “Global Poverty and Human Rights”
- Fall 2012: Instructor for “Health as a Human Right”
- Spring 2012: Instructor for “Global Poverty and Human Rights”
- Winter 2012: Teaching Assistant for “Human Rights in Latin America”
- Fall 2011: Instructor for “Health as a Human Right”
- Summer 2011: Instructor for “Human Rights in Latin America”
- Spring 2011: Teaching Assistant for “Law in Society”
- Winter 2011: Teaching Assistant for “Human Rights in Latin America”
- Summer 2009: Instructor for “Introduction to Comparative Politics”
- Spring 2009: Teaching Assistant for “Human Rights in Latin America”
- Winter 2009: Teaching Assistant for “Introduction to Political Theory”
- Fall 2008: Teaching Assistant for “Law and Politics of International Human Rights”
- Spring 2008: Teaching Assistant for “Law in Society”
- Winter 2008: Teaching Assistant for “Comparative Law and Courts”
- Fall 2007: Teaching Assistant for “Law and Politics of International Human Rights”
- Spring 2007: Teaching Assistant for “Introduction to Comparative Politics”
- Winter 2007: Research Assistant for faculty research project on intellectual property and free trade agreements
- Fall 2006: Teaching Assistant for “Introduction to Comparative Politics”
- Winter 2006: Research Assistant for faculty research project on intellectual property and free trade agreements

OTHER EXPERIENCE:

- Serve as elected graduate student representative on UW Graduate Program Committee, 2011-2012
- Serve as elected graduate student representative on UW Financial Aid Committee, Spring 2009
- Serve as alternate graduate representative on University of Washington’s Licensing Advisory Committee, a University-wide committee seeking solutions to ensure fair practices with apparel producers, 2007-2008
- Serve as Counselor for Princeton University Summer Journalism Program, intensive 10-day program for low-income high school students, 2005-2008
- Designed and conducted English classes and individual tutorials for Spanish speakers, summer 2004
- Tutored high school students at alternative DC high school and in College Bound, 2002 to 2004
- Tutored immigrants in English, computer skills, and citizenship test prep, 1996 to 2001
- President, 1998 to 2001, Students for Progressive Education and Action (SPEAC), Princeton University: Oversaw and guided all aspects of a quickly expanding student social justice activism organization

ADDITIONAL QUALIFICATIONS:

- Fluent Spanish and intermediate Portuguese
- Certificate in English as a Second Language (ESL) tutoring from Madison Literacy Council, 1996